health fair – save the date

save the date 2017 health fairs

As a valued Chevron partner, we want to take this opportunity to ask that you save the date for our fall health fairs. These company-sponsored events are coordinated with the U.S. Benefits annual open enrollment period and related to Chevron's health and wellness initiatives.

For your reference, the schedule of events is below. Though we do not anticipate any updates, please note that the schedule of events may be subject to change. Also included is the expected number of attendees for each of the events.

The focus of our health fair efforts is on the health and wellbeing of Chevron employees. If you would like to bring items to give away that promote your product or service, we ask that you make sure these items have a health-related focus. As always, bringing promotional items is entirely optional.
