An update on prescription drug coverage, open enrollment, ambulance coverage

As I write this, rescue and cleanup operations continue in New Orleans and along the Gulf Coast. As a Navy Seabee when Hurricane Camille hit the Mississippi Coast in 1969, I participated in the rescue/cleanup after that horrific storm. So I know first hand what lies ahead for the Gulf region. Therefore, I reinforce CRA President Bill Leney's request that our retirees help others in any way possible. Chevron and our legacy companies have a large number of retirees residing in the area affected by the disaster. Bill has written a letter to Chevron Chairman Dave O'Reilly requesting corporate assistance in any way possible for those retirees and surviving spouses.

By now you should have received a letter dated August, 2005, from Chevron Human Resources. If you haven't, call the HR Service Center at 1-888-TALK2HR to request a copy, or you may view it on the HR2 website at <http://hr2.chevrontexaco.com/retiree/>.

Six new area VPs on the job

The Chevron Retirees Association's six new area vice presidents are spread geographically from Moraga, Calif., and Reno, Nev. to Calgary, Alb.; Parker, Colo.; Lafayette, La.; and Temple Terrace, Fla.

Florida's George Powell supervises the largest number of chapters (16) as vp of the South Atlantic Seaboard Area. His region encompasses chapters in Virginia (2), North Carolina (3), South Carolina (2), Georgia (2) and Florida (7). He's also the Tampa Bay Chapter president until year's end. Powell worked a combined 37 years for four major oil companies, including Gulf and Chevron, retiring in 1992 as manager of the Louisville Terminal on the Ohio River."

President's Letter

Retirees cautioned about signing up for Medicare Prescription Drug Plan

I assumed the role of Chevron Retirees Association president on July 1. I not only want to thank the officers and members of the Association for their confidence but I want you to know I will make every effort to live up to the important task you have given me. I am fortunate to follow in the footsteps of Bob Olmstead, who held this position the last two years. I also am privileged to have a dedicated group of officers and committee chairs, who will be assisting me in achieving the CRA objectives.

In late October, we all will once again experience the Open Enrollment period for our various Chevron Healthcare programs. This year your options are somewhat more complicated because of the new Medicare Prescription Drug Program that goes into effect January 1, 2006. Concerning that program: LET ME WARN YOU NOT TO SIGN UP FOR THE MEDICARE PRESCRIPTION DRUG PLAN OR ANY OTHER PRESCRIPTION PLAN.

Here's why. If anyone signs up for any other plan beyond the ones being offered by Chevron, their Chevron Healthcare Coverage will be INVALIDATED. The consequences of such a mistake are so severe that I want to make certain no retiree or surviving spouse falls into this trap. (See more details in Kenneth Smith's Benefits Column on Page 1.)

On another subject, one of the four cornerstones of accomplishing the Association's Mission to attract and retain members is communications. "Encore" is one of our major communication tools to inform the members of what the Association is doing, as an advocate for its important issues. In addition, there are articles that focus on the heartwarming and meaningful community volunteer activities of some of our CRA members.

Last year the Project Purpose Task Force identified the need to give "Encore" a facelift. You can help by telling us what types of articles and information you would like to see. Although we are limited by the number of pages in each issue, we want to make "Encore" more interesting and user friendly for our readers. Please address your comments and ideas to Maree Stone, chair of the Communications Committee (email: msto@att.net or mail to 30600 N. Pima Rd., No. 101, Scottsdale, AZ 85262).

Many of our members and friends living on the U.S. Gulf Coast have suffered terribly from the devastation of Hurricane Katrina. Hopefully, by the time you read this, the healing will have started. Although the Katrina victims may have slipped from our consciousness, their need for support will continue as it will be months or years before some areas fully recover. Let me again suggest, if you have not done so, that you sit down and write a check to the American Red Cross, Salvation Army or any other of your favorite relief agencies. Specify your donation for "Katrina Hurricane Relief."

By the way, immediately following the Katrina disaster, we communicated quickly with our retirees. We emailed messages to our Area Vice Presidents who contacted the Chapter Presidents. In turn, they got in touch with their members. Of course, it would have been faster to email everyone simultaneously. If you have email, and have not done so, send your address to Jerry White (CRAjerry1@aol.com) who operates the CRA email directory. He will send you our updated directory on a regular basis, giving you access to many fellow retirees. You'll also be able to receive timely CRA messages. There's no cost for this service, so the price is right.

New chairs head the majority of standing committees

Five of the CRA's seven standing committees have new chairpersons for 2005-06. In making these appointments, President Bill Leney said, "Our standing committees are important in defining the future composition of the Association and how it relates to its members and the Chevron Corporation."

David F. Williams heads Budget & Finance, whose multiple responsibilities involve preparing the Association's budget, overseeing expenditures, recommending dues and performing other financial duties. He worked 35 years for Chevron, retiring in San Francisco in 1992 as head of staff, Distribution Technology, Marketing. Contact Williams at 1023 Morton Street, Ashland, OR 97520; (541) 482-6395 or DFWI@aol.com. Committee members are Tom Boaz, Chelsea, AL; Merle Hufford, Clayton, CA; and Edmann Rathke, New Orleans, LA.

Maree "MJ" Stone is in charge of the Communications Committee, with responsibility for the retirees webpage, the production of Encore and the CRA email directory. MJ, who served the last two years as Association secretary, spent 39 years with Spencer Chemical, Gulf Oil and Chevron before retiring in San Ramon, Calif., as vp and general manager, Human Resources for Chevron Overseas Petroleum. She resides at 30600 N. Pima Road, #101, Scottsdale, AZ 85262, with access at (480) 595-2872 or msto@att.net. On her committee are Patricia Branson Crandall, TX; Sandy Mackie, San Francisco, CA; and Jerry White, Rancho Palos Verdes, CA. Glenn Dutton, Orange, TX, is a committee consultant.

Taking the Nominating Committee's helm is Bob Olmstead, CRA president the last two years. Committee duties are to propose qualified candidates for president and to supervise the election at the annual meeting. Olmstead can be reached at Box 21765, Hilton Head Island, SC 29925; (843) 689-3171 or bandgathhi@aol.com. Committee members include John Bocek, Lakeway, TX; Daryl Brennick, Lynden, WA; John Dewes, Walnut Creek, CA 94596; Beverly Lee, Bakersfield, CA; Bill Merkel, Edmond, OK; Dee Moscou, Lake Havasu, AZ; Don Satterly, Cox's Creek, KY; and Jack Stewart, New Orleans, LA.

Bill Merkel is chairing Planning & Research, which monitors issues of special importance to the membership and reports them to the CRA. He served a combined 23 years with four legacy companies before concluding his career with Chevron in 1986 as operations advisor, Africa, in San Ramon, Calif. Previously, he chaired the Budget & Finance Committee and was a member of the Benefits and Compassionate Service committees. Merkel served four terms as the Texas/Oklahoma Area vp and is in his seventh year as Oklahoma City Chapter president. He may be reached at 3101 E 32nd Street, Edmond, OK 73013; (405) 340-1444 or wekends@juno.com. Assisting Merkel are Dorothy Black, Santa Rosa, CA; Clyde Crittenden, Granbury, TX; Frank Gray, Midland, TX; and Sy Yuan, San Rafael, CA.

Public Affairs has John Maerzke as chair and Mike Marcy of Sonoma, CA., assisting. They oversee the Company's Public Service Awards Program and meet with Chevron Public Affairs management and staff periodically in targeting possible issues for CRA involvement. Maerzke, also the San Francisco Chapter president, culminated his 38-year Company career in 1998 by retiring from Public Affairs as manager, Corporate Identity and Production. He is accessible at 2543 Diamond Street, San Francisco, CA 94131; (415) 239-8129 or maerzke@earthlink.net.

Kenneth Smith continues his challenging role as Benefits chair. He meets with Chevron Benefits management and staff, monitors changing health care shifts and keeps CRA members informed of key issues. His base is 5156 Pinyon Jay Road, Parker, CO 80134; (303) 805-5162 or kennethsmith@aol.com. Committee aide is Alan Horan, Dallas, TX.

Also returning is Glenn Dutton, Demographics chair. That committee gives demographic support to the CRA president, chapters and geographic regions, and updates a detailed demographics map and code tables. Contact him at 2223 N 33rd Street, Orange, TX 77630; (409) 883-2680 or gldu@aol.com.

MAILCALL

Though he's no spring chicken, Al Burnham of Red Bluff, Calif., certainly acts like one in his year-round volunteer activities in Lassen and Plumas National Forests, which span a combined 2.5-million acres in Northern California. As the U.S. Forest Service coordinator for five snowmobile clubs in that geographic region, he often drives 200 to 300 miles a day. His primary task is maintaining snowmobiling trails throughout the forests, including those in six snoparks. To do so, he must clear trails in the summer and fall, and install and hang trail signs on trees.

Burnham said, "About 90 percent of those Lassen National Forest trails, also open to cross-country skiers, are in scenic, hilly, mountain country surrounding Lassen Volcanic National Park (10,457 feet at Lassen Peak). I also serve all of California-Nevada as the Forest Service's Snowmobile Safety Training Coordinator. That includes holding two seminars each year on safety, survival and other issues."

He works, too, with a gun club, teaching gun safety to primarily teenagers new to hunting. Burnham, a member of the Norcal and East Bay chapters, concluded his 36-year Chevron service in 1986 as refinery shift coordinator at the Richmond Refinery.

Donated any blood recently? Darwin Eaton appeared on four Tulsa TV stations in April as he was heralded for becoming the only person in the Red Cross' Southwest Region to make 300 blood donations (37.5 gallons) in a lifetime. He began giving whole blood as a Warren Petroleum employee in 1949. He worked 42 years for the Gulf Companies, retiring in 1983 as Credit manager, Warren Petroleum, in Tulsa.

"I'm up to 302 donations now and I'm on a routine in which I give 'O' blood every 56 days. By the way, I was totally surprised by all that TV fuss with cameras, microphones and reporters. You can call it my 'less than 15 minutes of fame,'" said the good-natured Eaton.

Pirtle H. Guy not only drives his Ford Taurus around his hometown of Marshall, Texas, but he occasionally makes the 300-mile roundtrip alone to visit his sister in the Dallas suburb of Richardson. By the way, Guy is 101 years young. Earlier this year, among his volunteer activities was working in the rehab and ICU areas of Marshall's hospital.

Guy, an honorary member of the North Texas Chapter, retired from Gulf Oil in 1961 as resident manager, Dallas, concluding a 33-year career. He promptly served 12 years in the Dallas County Constable Office and two more as a deputy sheriff assigned as a court bailiff. He regales listeners as to how he was in the funeral procession for noted gangster "Pretty Boy" Floyd and attended the services for bank robbers Bonnie Parker and Clyde Barrow.

Ernest Breaux, Lafayette, La., is doing double duty during the current fiscal year as vp of the Gulf Coast Area, with responsibility for 11 chapters in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, and as steering committee chair for the CRA's 2008 annual meeting in New Orleans. He previously was president and vp of Acadiana Chapter. His 33 years with Chevron, including eight years in Indonesia, climaxed in 1992 when he retired as manager, Petroleum Engineering, in Lafayette.

Robin Backstrom, Parker, Colo., is vp of the Intermountain Area, with 12 chapters in seven Western states that stretch north from Arizona to Wyoming and west from Texas and Colorado to Nevada. It'll downsize to 11 when Colorado Hi Country and Mile Hi Texaco chapters merge in December. Backstrom was president of the latter. He worked 34 years for Texaco, retiring in 1999 in Denver as a Petroleum Landman. Backstrom's volunteer activities range from training 125 people for the U.S. Women's Golf Championship and planting trees for Outdoor Colorado to answering the pledge week phones for Denver's PBS TV station.

Bruce Fraser, Calgary, Alb., is Canadian Area vp, with responsibility for chapters in Alberta and British Columbia. Some of his other Calgary activities are serving as Canadian Prairie Chapter president and as a volunteer with the Chevron Retirees in Action, where he participates in a highway cleanup project, collections for the local foodbank and on a book sale for the Literacy Foundation. He culminated 38 years with California Standard Company and Chevron Canada Resources by retiring in 1992 as supervisor, Computer Drafting.

Neal Hildebrand, Moraga, Calif., is vp of the Northern California/Hawaii Area. The region spans 11 chapters in Northern Cal and one each in Hawaii and Nevada (Reno). Previously, he spent 2½ years as Contra Costa Chapter president in the San Francisco Bay Area. A petroleum engineer, Hildebrand concluded his 33-year Chevron career in 1992 by retiring as an Exploration and Production staff consultant in San Francisco.

Bill Mather's bailiwick embraces four continents as vp of the Unaffiliated Members Area. That farflung membership of 1,005 includes retirees in Australia, Canada, Chile, England, Mexico and Switzerland. Foreign lands are nothing new to Mather because in the 1990s he served seven years as Chevron Chemical International's vice president and regional manager, Latin America, for Petrochemicals and Plastics. Based in Houston, his turf spanned Mexico, Central and South America, and the Caribbean. Reno's Mather retired in 1998 after 40 years service. For the last four years, he was the Sierra Nevada Chapter president.

Returning area vps are Daryl Brennick, Lynden, Wash., Northwest U.S./Alaska; Phil Stone, Pauma Valley, Calif., Southern California; Charles Rhoads, Houston, South Texas; Clyde Crittenden, Granbury, Texas, The Plains; Don Satterly, Cox's Creek, Ky., Midwest; and Kevin Ryan, Ridgefield, Conn., North Atlantic Seaboard.

Encore Benefits Corner: Open enrollment is Oct. 17-28

This very important letter provides information about Medicare Part D, Medicare's new prescription drug benefit, which it is critical you understand. Please refer to the Chevron Human Resources letter for additional information or call the HR Service Center if you have any questions. Chevron Human Resources advises that the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) continues to provide additional information and clarifications about the administration of Medicare Part D, and Chevron will provide more details relevant to retirees as they become available.

With regard to Open Enrollment for 2006: Chevron has advised that Open Enrollment for 2006 is scheduled for Oct. 17-28. The Open Enrollment Newsletter is scheduled to be mailed the last day of September. The corporation recognizes that retirees impacted by Hurricane Katrina may not be able to receive mail. The issues surrounding Open Enrollment and its communications for these individuals are being worked out.

In previous columns, I asked that if you have questions to send them to me. Those with implications for our retiree community would be answered in this column. I recently had an issue regarding the use of an Out-of-Network ambulance service which responded to a 911 call. The retiree was billed an amount deemed in excess of the reasonable and customary sum.

United HealthCare has advised that, under the Chevron Medical Plan, two coinsurance levels exist. In-Network providers are covered at 90% of the contract amount and Out-of-Network providers at 80% of the allowable charge. In the case of an emergency service, the plan allows for the higher benefit level of 90% of the allowable charge regardless of the contract status of the provider.

You need to know, however, that few ambulance companies will contract with an insurance firm for emergency trips because the nature of their services guarantees them customers regardless of their contract status. Using 911 does not guarantee that an In-Network provider will respond to your emergency. In the subject case, United HealthCare covered 90% of the allowable charge - still leaving more than $500 for the retiree to pay.

In emergencies, the comfort afforded by the immediate response of 911 will, in most cases, outweigh the added cost incurred if an out-of-network ambulance service responds to your 911 call.

Thanks for your comments and feedback. As always, if you have questions or issues, contact me at kennethgsmiith@aol.com.

New secretary

Mary Lou Baugher of Bakersfield, Calif., is the Association's new secretary. A familiar face to CRA members, Baugher has attended seven annual meetings in two different capacities. She was a three-term Southern California Area vice president in 2000-2002 and prior to that was president for four years of the South San Joaquin Valley Chapter. .

Baugher said, "During my first year as chapter president, we started an annual food drive that has continued each September for the Kern County Food Bank." Additionally, she served two years on the Association's Benefits Committee. She concluded her 17-year Chevron career in 1992 as a Human Relations representative in Bakersfield.

Merle Hufford of Concord, Calif., whose Chevron career spanned 32 years, is serving his third year as Association treasurer.

New women chapter presidents join the fold

Among the two dozen new CRA chapter presidents are Company retirees Charlotte Clunas, Portland, and Rose Marie Ritter, Gulf Research, and surviving spouses Loretta Harvey, Eastern Utah, and Shirley Labeth, Southwest Mississippi. All four attended the Association's annual meeting in Portland, Ore.

Clunas has held several Portland Chapter offices, including secretary-treasurer and vice president. Now this Vancouver, Wash., resident is serving her second go-round as president. She joined the chapter, which includes 105-paid Chevron and Texaco retirees in Oregon and Washington, in 1992. That's the same year she retired from Chevron USA as a telemarketer in the Willbridge, Ore., terminal, working with dealers who sold tires, batteries and accessories. Her Company years totaled 25.

Rose Marie Ritter of Verona, Pa., is president of the club with the longest name: Gulf Research Center Annuitants Association Chapter. It's comprised of some 500-paid members who were employed at the Gulf Research lab in Hamarville, 17 miles from Pittsburgh. She's been a chapter member since 1986 and an officer since 1989 in such roles as social director, secretary, vp and now president. Ritter also is busy as host committee chair for the CRA's 2006 Pittsburgh annual meeting. Added volunteer time is spent assisting chapter members, such as driving them to their doctor. Completing 32 years, she retired in 1986 from Gulf Research.

Harvey's late husband, James, spent almost all 38 of his Chevron years in the Rocky Mountain states before retiring as an Area Production foreman. Two years ago the Eastern Utah Chapter was about to be closed so Christella Parrish, as president, and Harvey, as secretary-treasurer, said they'd try to keep it going. Now Harvey is president of the 39 all-Chevron member chapter, which holds quarterly luncheon meetings in Vernal, Utah. She also had prior experience as the Las Vegas Chapter treasurer, helping it get started by hosting board meetings in her home. In Grand Junction, Harvey's volunteerism includes serving on the Rangely Days Picnic Committee, an annual September event, and she plans to work as a volunteer at the local hospital this winter.

Labeth also is a surviving spouse. Her husband, Richard, worked 35 years for Chevron before retiring in 1999 as a Production Facilities representative in Brookhaven, Miss. Labeth is president of the Southwest Mississippi Chapter, comprised of 40 Chevron, Gulf and Texaco retirees. Meetings are held six times a year in Brookhaven, about three hours north of the Gulf of Mexico. She formerly worked 31 years as a secretary in the central office of the Brookhaven School District, is a past president of the Mississippi Association of Educational Office Professionals and has chaired one of its committees each year. As a volunteer clerk for Lincoln County Baptist Association, she keeps the yearly records for 39 Baptist churches.

Maffei, Matzke receive awards

Kitty Maffei has been honored by Fresh Start Walnut Creek, a community service organization providing food, laundering and phone usage to San Francisco Bay Area homeless. She's the first to receive "The Kitty Maffei Kind-Hearted Person Award."

"We named the award in her honor because she makes life better for people, one person at a time," said Executive Director Susan Prather. "In our first three years of operation, Kitty has done such things as single-handedly supply lunch for everyone at Fresh Start two days a week, do laundry for people, keep us supplied with water and soft drinks, get involved in fund-raising and hug everyone she meets."

Some of Maffei's other volunteer efforts: tutoring at-risk high school students, serving as an officer for Future Business Leaders of America and chairing Safety Week for the Walnut Creek Transportation Commission. She received the 2002 ChevronTexaco Public Service Award for such work. As a CRA member, Maffei has been San Francisco Chapter president and a Contra Costa Chapter board member. In 1986, she retired as manager, Advanced Office Systems, Chevron CITC, to complete a 39-year Company career.

Richard Matzke, who lives near Walnut Creek in Alamo, has been selected to receive a College of Liberal Arts and Sciences Alumni Award from Iowa State University's Department of Geological and Atmospheric Sciences. Carl Jacobson, the awards chair wrote Matzke, "This award is given to distinguished alumni who have demonstrated outstanding achievement and received national or international recognition. Your extraordinary achievements in the oil industry make you a most deserving recipient."

Matzke retired as Chevron's vice chairman, completing a Company career of more than 40 years. The ChevronTexaco board of directors praised Matzke in 2001 "as a relentless portfolio builder. In addition to Venezuela, he played leading roles getting Chevron into Kuwait, Argentina, Brazil, Georgia, Azerbaijan, Thailand, Bangladesh, Qatar, Norway, the Mackenzie Delta, the Chad/Cameroon project and gas-to-liquids venture with Sasol."

Houston names sixth scholarship winner

Recipient of Metropolitan Houston Chapter's $1,500 academic scholarship for 2005 is Kelly L. Connelly, granddaughter of Charles J. Connelly, Wexford, Pa. Kelly, who maintained an "A" average at Pennsylvania's North Allegheny Senior High School, is seeking a Pharmacy Degree in the Honors College of Pharmacy at Duquesne University. Her grandfather worked 35 years for Gulf before retiring in 1983 as controller/treasurer of Gulf Pipeline Company in Houston.
